ON ES EL CENTRE DE LA CIUTAT ?
= Where exactly is the center of the city? It is quite unclear..everywhere you will go downtown there will be a million of other people...popular choice is the city center is PLAÇA CATALUNYA. If you have come from el Gotic,.you are now ready for a change of scene..(& vice verso) be sure to have a sip of water (what? si, sorry) from the FOUNTAINof Canaletes (so that you can find your way back here later)... the super 19th Century PASSEIG DE GRACIA & L' Eixample (GH2) with modernista built up in the big expansions...it's amazing to have a look around these massive architectures.. Maybe best to bring a picnic with you, as it is expensive & fashionable around here too.. Also is recommend to come here in the evening after all the suits have gone home

. . . A miracle sensation . . .

TAPAS = SNACKS
.. is one of the most famous Spanish words. What does it all mean?.. there are no rules exactly to these little plates of what would otherwise be known as Entrantes: Starters or Aperitivos: Appetizers.. it became much like Sushi, a hip way to dine.. & like so, also here it is not the cheap way to eat... here bars are only as good as they have atmosphere, you will enjoy it better if you are standing up.. & you have to drink lots of wine.. & you must not be alone .. Not always will they be from the sea or even smell of fish if they are..! Most of the time you are better off not knowing what it is that you are eating..like

PULPITOS: Baby Octopus
PULPO: Octopus
MEJILLONES: Mussels
SEPIA: Cuttlefish
TELLINAS: cockles served in the shell (garlic sauce)
ACEITUNAS: Olives
AHUMADOS: Smoked Fish
ALBONDIGAS: Meatballs

BOQUERONES: Anchovies (usually in oil or vinegar)
CALAMARES: Squid Rings
CARACOLES: Snails (see what I mean)
